UNLOCKING YOUR TALENT PIPELINE WITH INCLUSIVE RECRUITMENT PRACTICES AND EDUCATION-BUSINESS LINKS

Come join us for an interactive workshop to learn about the interconnectedness of this and how inclusive recruitment practices and meaningful school engagement can help grow your bottom line whilst making a positive impact in your community!

This event will promote employment and skills and the importance of business playing their part.

At this event you will:

Hear about Business in the Community's Opening Doors Campaign.

Explore a new, free to use, 'Employer Standards' self-assessment tool that provide you with a framework outlining best practice in business-education outreach.

Understand how Enterprise Advisers working strategically with schools and colleges are changing the recruitment landscape.

All these sessions will help your business to become a more inclusive recruiter which can help with your recruitment challenges, help you to make your school engagement more meaningful and effective and lastly, we will highlight a great opportunity for your senior leaders to volunteer in schools at a strategic and leadership level, to help schools develop their careers and employability offer to students.

Please join us for this informative, interactive event which will make a positive difference to our region and network with like minded businesses from across the East Midlands.
