

Health and Wellbeing Coach (West Somerset)

Salary: £19,737 to £26,970

Depending on experience

We are passionate about the way sport and physical activity can transform lives. We wish to create local conditions to get more people active and use this to improve the health and wellbeing of the community.

To support this work we are looking for an enthusiastic Health and Wellbeing Coach who shares our passion for promoting active and resilient communities. Funded through the West Somerset Primary Care Network, you will work closely with them and the wider SASP team to establish positive changes to the activity levels of residents to improve their health and wellbeing. You will work with both individuals, groups and partner organisations to achieve a happier, healthier and more active town.

You will taking responsibility for some projects and having a support role in others. Lead areas will be allocated on a strengths and knowledge basis after interview.
